Summary:

On March 8, 2010 Ricardo Vargas reported to the Carlsbad Police Department the robbery of the Subway sandwich restaurant where he worked. Vargas told police an unidentified African-American adult male between the age of 25 and 30-years-old came into the restaurant and displayed a silver revolver handgun and then demanded the store's money from the cash register.

Vargas gave the money to the suspect who then departed the store westbound through the parking lot toward El Camino Real. The store was occupied by two customers at the time of the robbery and neither they nor Vargas were injured. An undetermined amount of money was stolen during the robbery.
